Ivan Albrecht

Emptification: Ivan Albrecht and Lidija Slavkovic

January 8 – 27, 2015

Reception: Tuesday, January 27, 5 – 7:30 p.m.

Gallery Talk: Wednesday, January 28, 2:45 p.m.

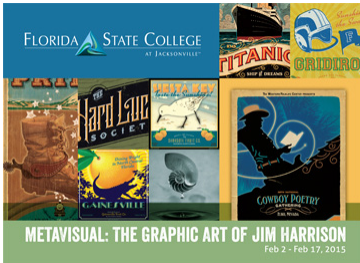

For Serbian artists Ivan Albrecht and Lidija Slavkovic, emptification is not only a political plan, but more importantly a reality of a present human condition, of life accelerated and overloaded to the point of flatness and exhaustion. For these two artists the question is not the one of origin but of the possibility to continue in one such environment, to keep going, to persist. Their process of emptification is by “filling in” that which has already been fatigued, that which is already abstract, and will always persist as artificial. By dropping, squeezing, tearing, or by repetitively dragging lines, by scribbling, Ivan and Lidija acknowledge the performance and theatre of the act of drawing and dropping. Featuring ceramic installations by Ivan Albrecht and drawings and C-prints by Lidija Slavkovic.
